

How to upload Blogger templates

1. Download your Blogger XML template
2. The template is contained in a zip file (WinZip, WinRAR), ensure you have extracted the XML template.
3. Log in to your Blogger dashboard and go to Layout > Edit HTML
4. Ensure you back up your old template in case you decide to use it again. To do this, click on the "download full template" link and save the file to your hard drive.
5. Look for the section near the top where you can browse for your XML template.
6. Enter the location of your template and press "upload".
7. The HTML of your new template will now appear in the box below. You can preview your template or simply save to start using it!

Enjoy!

How to edit posts

There are few instructions you need to follow with this template

Use images not less than 560px, don't worry for the larger one it will resize automatically but when you place a smaller image this will expand to optimized image size and it will look really bad.

So use image larger than 560px.

And never use any text editor for posting like word or PDF because they have a special formatting and when you paste these codes in the blogger editor, the parent formatting remains same as it is. And blogger don't understand about that formatting. This will cause your image look bad or something you have not written will show as summary on homepage.
